

Examination to rule out tuberculosis (TB) in family members of persons entitled to asylum (2016)

[To whom it may concern]

The public health department Nürnberger Land provides family members of asylum persons an examination and consultation to rule out TB disease of the lungs (§ 19 Infection Protection Act).

The pulmonary tuberculosis is a particular pneumonia caused by tuberculosis bacteria, which can take a slow course. There are often no noticeable signs of the disease at the beginning. Therefore tuberculosis in the initial stage is difficult to detect. However, an X-ray of the lungs helps to detect the disease.

For family members of authorized asylum persons who are older than 15 years and not pregnant, the public health department in cooperation with the Radiology Practice Dr. Langlouis offers an X-ray of the lungs for free.

If you belong to the above-mentioned persons and have not received a lung X-ray since your arrival in Germany and you wish to have this examination, please contact the health department Nürnberger Land at Lauf on the phone number 09123-9506550.

From us you will receive, with details of your family name, first name, date of birth and home address (within the county Nürnberger Land) permission for a free X-ray examination at the Radiologie-Praxis Dr. Langlouis, Simonshofer Str. 53, 91207 Lauf an der Pegnitz.

The X-ray examination can be carried out as a rule immediately following the issuance of the permission of the health authorities, so you only have to come once to Lauf.

The result of the X-ray of the lungs in written form we will send to you within a few days.

For queries we are gladly at your disposal under the telephone number 09123-9506550.
